CLUB NEWS

MEETING TIMES AND DATES

The meetings of the Puget Sound Genealogical Society are held the fourth Tuesday of each month from 7:00 to 9:00 pm at the PSGS Library, located at Givens Community Center, Suite 115, 1026 Sidney Rd, Port Orchard, WA. Exception: the November through February meetings are held during daylight hours, 1:00 to 3:00 pm. The library is open for research on each Monday from 9:00 am to 9:00 pm and Friday from 9:00 am to 3:00 pm.

The Belfair Chapter meets on the first Tuesday of each month at 1:00 pm in the North Mason Timberland Regional Library, NE 23081 Highway 3, Belfair.

PRESIDENT REMARKS

As this year comes to a close, it is time to recognize and thank the large number of members for time, talents, and materials contributed for the good of our Club. To mention all who deserve my gratitude would be an extensive list so I will list those who are most prominent in my memory at this time. My thanks to all of the elected officers (i.e. Linda Sloan, Lois Roark, Yvonne Weir, Phyllis Wahlquist, and Cyril Taylor) who have performed many extra services in addition to their official duties. My thanks to the following non-elected appointees for special services: Marjorie Menees and Cereice Cook for the tremendous cataloguing and work in our library; Andrea MacDonald for her work on the ancestor charts; Cindy Spore for the library volunteer schedules; Pat Eder for publicity and reviews of periodicals; Lorraine Kniert for telephone calling committee; David Rugh for the construction of wonderful library book cabinets; Jackie Horton for seminar work; Linnie Griffin for ways and means. Our club owes much to Dick Helander for over three years of editing and improving our quarterly publication, Family Backtracking. Andrea MacDonald will be assuming the editorship in 1997. Help her by submitting materials to be considered for publication. I also wish to acknowledge the faithful and extensive services of Mary Penland, a long-time member, who moved to Colorado this year.

PSGS has become a very large club with over 250 members. I encourage each of you to become involved in some phase of our Club's activities. Please volunteer by contacting any of the officers. Experience is not a prerequisite and remember we are all here to help each other in our searches. I have had an executive committee meeting each month in an attempt to shorten the business portion of our general meetings. Comments or suggestions made through this committee will be eagerly accepted. Your participation is essential to democratic and active functioning of our Club. Good luck in the hunting and digging up of your ancestors in 1997.

Bill Richardson

The Genealogists Psalm

Genealogy is my pastime, I shall not stray. It maketh me to lie down and examine half-buried tombstones. It leadeth me into still courthouses; It restoreth my ancestral knowledge. It leadeth me in paths of census records & ship's passenger lists for my surname's sake. Yea, though I walk through the shadows of research libraries & microfilm readers, I shall fear no discouragement. For a strong urge is within me; the curiosity & motivation they comforteth me. It demandeth preparation of storage space for the acquisition of countless documents. It annointeth my head with burning mid-night oil; my family group sheets runneth over. Surely birth, marriage, & death dates shall follow me all the days of my life; And I shall dwell in the house of a family-History seeker forever.

THE COMPUTER CORNER

ON-LINE MAILLISTS

For those of you using the Internet, maillists are a great resource. A maillist is a group of people who want to receive specific information from a single source much the same as this newsletter you are reading. This newsletter is sent to all those on the maillist--the same goes for the Internet; however, there is a difference with Internet maillists.

On the Internet, in genealogy, maillists allow an individual to send out an inquiry (anything from a specific name to geographical queries) which in turn is sent out to all those on the maillist. This type of interactive maillist is one thing that makes the Internet so much fun to use and so valuable as a tool.

In genealogy alone there are close to one hundred maillists. The maillists cover everything from queries on specific names to the latest in genealogical software and what platform is being used. Two of the best maillists are GENUKI (Genealogy United Kingdom and Ireland) and Roots. Once these two are accessed, all the others are easy to find out about.

To subscribe to GENUKI, the e-mail address is [listserv@mail.eworld.com]; the subject line is blank and in the body of the letter type 'subscribe genuki-digest (first name last name).' For Roots, the e-mail address is [ROOTS-L-request@roots.web.com]; the subject line is blank and in the body of the letter type 'subscribe.' A letter of confirmation should be returned (mine was returned within minutes) to you. Then, a little later, an informational letter is received that outlines how to use the maillist and, most importantly, how to unsubscribe from the list.

There are maillists that cover different countries and in America, different states. In Canada, there are maillists that cover the different provinces. In order to find more maillists to subscribe to, visit Roots-L Home Page at <http://www.smartlink.net/~leverich/roots-l.html> for a listing. The listing you find here is not a complete listing, there are many more!

There is only one downside to genealogy maillists. I subscribed to four maillists -- Roots-L, GENUKI, GENNAM (dedicated to surname queries only), and to Northwest- roots (dedicated to researching in the northwest). By the time I received each of the maillists each day, I was reading upwards to 200+ e-mails per day. They each took some time which added up to several hours of reading. Take care which maillists you subscribe to.

Unsubscribing from a maillist is not impossible but some people think so. Just as the correct information is required to subscribe, the same is true for unsubscribing. This information should be in a letter you receive from the maillist outlining rules for using the list. When you receive the letter, be sure to print a copy and retain it in a file marked maillists so that when you do decide to unsubscribe, you have the information available.

ANCESTRAL FILE

One of our members has asked me to pass on some information she received from a medieval maillist she subscribes to. I've taken the liberty of synopsisizing the information to fit here.

W. David Samuelson (dsam@aros.net in Salt Lake City) wrote that he worked in the Medieval Families Unit of the Ancestral File Operations for more than two years. The newest release of Ancestral File (AF) is due out late this year (1996) per the latest information he had received. He said that there was a large effort by 100 volunteers working in two shifts to clean up AF and to include a great deal of correct information. He went on to say that restrictions had been installed to prevent anyone from submitting pre-1500 information to AF without it going through the unit and that source documents must accompany the information so that the unit may determine correct information. Mr. Samuelson said that much of England's medieval records were verified and checked and are now included as well as the major and well known European medieval families. Efforts were made to use native names rather than Anglicanized names for non-English medieval families.

In a second e-mail "Richard" stated that in August of 1996 he spoke with John Kitzmiller of the FHL who is heading the team that is currently making improvements to AF. Richard was told that a new version of AF was due out before the New Year and that it will better meet the needs of the scholar/genealogist. One of the new stipulations for submissions to AF will be that the submitter will have to be related to the people whose data is being submitted and that sources will be cited. A tight rein will be kept on royal, noble and medieval families in particular. Richard was also told that a new version of PAF will be out shortly. The interface between PAF and AF, always close, will supposedly be closer.

MORE ON MAILLISTS

[This is a message from Carol Wilkerson who is another successful user of maillists. Ed]

"I wanted to tell you that they are FREE. Well, free as to no charge, but you do pay for the time online to decide which mail to read and which to delete. I usually use about 20 hours (AOL has a new 20/20 plan, 20 hours for $20) and have been VERY successful with these lists. Once you get on a list, the server will send you a message telling you that you are on, and this message will also tell you how to download (I would recommend downloading it to a disk as it is pretty long) the current list of ALL of the available lists you can be on. The problem is choosing which one to be on! Some of them generate a lot of mail, some, like surname lists, not as much. There are lists that cover all of the CONUS (continental US) and some special interests too.

I have been very successful with these lists. The people on them are from all over the world (I have written to a lady in England that lives near a town that has the same name as one of my ancestors) and so the chances of finding a relative are greatly increased. I have "found" about 6 real cousins and I have only been on the lists for about two months. The lists are also useful for questions, the people on them are also more than willing to help if you have a question. And then it just keeps snowballing."

FROM THE INTERNET

Family Tree Maker for Macintosh

October 21, 1996, Fremont, CA - Family Tree Maker(TM) will soon be available for the Power Macintosh(R)! The new Macintosh version will include all the features that make Family Tree Maker the best-selling family tree software for IBM-compatibles, with over 900,000 copies sold. Family Tree Maker's popularity has boomed because it actually helps you find your ancestors - its FamilyFinder(TM) Index of 115 million names helps you instantly identify which historical records include information on your own relatives. A link to www.familytreemaker.com takes you directly to a web site with thousands of Family Tree Maker users working together on tracing their family trees, plus valuable genealogy information and resources.

The Family Tree Maker for Macintosh package also includes four of the most popular Family Archive CDs: Social Security Death Benefits Records and two World Family Tree CDs. The Social Security discs include important vital statistics (name, birth and death dates, Social Security number) you need to begin your research on relatives who have died since 1937. The included World Family Tree CDs are the first two CDs resulting from the World Family Tree Project. This ongoing project gives family history enthusiasts the opportunity to contribute their own family tree to be placed on CD-ROM as a starting point for other researchers. A customer who uses the CD and finds a family member in one of the World Family Trees can potentially uncover an entire branch of their family tree. Then, they can use the free online Submitter Information Service to get the name and address of the person who contributed that original tree. Since both people are tracing the same family line, they often turn out to be distant cousins!

HASKELL FAMILY SOCIETY

The HASKELL FAMILY SOCIETY has reunited many "lost" family members, including first cousins and in one instance an uncle and nephew living in the same town, but our greatest coup came on 29 May 1996 when we reunited two sisters, desperately seeking each other for the last 65 years.

With members in ten countries around the world, able to trace their origins to a little corner of SW England through 500 years of recorded family history, the society's international aspect proved of great value in bringing these sisters together, one living in England, the other in far western Canada. A half-sister and three half-brothers in

New Zealand and Australia also share in the joy of the reunion. For the members and officers of our society it was a truly satisfying experience to play a part in bringing so much happiness to these deserving people.

Membership in the HASKELL FAMILY SOCIETY is open to all Haskell descendants at £8.00 UK, $11.00 USA, or $13.00 Canadian and includes our informative quarterly Newsletter, free unlimited queries and gratis research. To apply for membership or request further details please contact our Hon. Secretary, Mrs. Mary Haskell, 21 Royston Way, Slough, Berks, England SL1 6EP.

KY County URL list

For you with a computer, modem, Internet connections and KY ancestors, this list might be of interest to you. It comes by way of Carol Wilkerson.

In March and April, 1996, a group of genealogists organized the KENTUCKY COMPREHENSIVE GENEALOGY DATABASE. The idea was to provide a single entry point for all counties in Kentucky, where collected databases would be stored. In addition, these databases would be indexed and cross-linked, so that even if an individual was found in more than one county, he could be located in the index. At the same time volunteers were found who were willing to coordinate the collection of databases and generally oversee the contents of the web page. The list below shows the presently established URLs for the counties. The list will be republished as new sites are established. A Family History Research Success Story or
The Utilization of Modern Genealogical Research Techniques
by Cyril Taylor

It has been an objective of mine to trace my Wynn and Farmer ancestry back to their origin in Ireland. To achieve this goal I have been attempting to trace backwards as well as forward. My purpose for searching for my cousins had two purposes. First, that I would be able locate someone who had knowledge of the specific County, Parish, and Townland in Ireland where my great-grandparents, Thomas Wynn and his wife Mary Farmer, were born. The secondary purpose is to make a record of all my Wynn cousins' births, marriages and deaths.

This essay is written to demonstrate the use of Social Security Death Benefit Records and Home Phone Book on CD-ROM's in searching for unknown cousins. The step-by-step example presented is an actual case illustrating family history research success a story.

My great-uncle, John Wynn, had two sons. William and Michael. The father and sons were coal miners. They had resided and worked in the small town of Streator in LaSalle County, Illinois. In tracing this family I found them residing in Auburn (Village) Township, Sangamon County, Illinois in the 1900 United States Census. Briefly, the entry was as follows:

Name	Relation	Date-of-Birth	Age	Place-of-birth
Winn, John	Head	Aug. 1858	42	England ¹
Mary	Wife	Apr. 1858	42	Pennsylvania
Mike	Head	Apr. 1878	22	Illinois
Allice ²	Wife	Oct. 1879	20	England
John	Son	Aug. 1899	9/12	Illinois

My research had revealed that the son, Michael Wynn (the Mike listed above) had been killed in a mine accident at Wilburton, Latimer County, Oklahoma (Indian Territory) in 1905. The question came to mind, what became of his son, John?

To help me solve this problem, I turned to the Social Security Death Benefit records on CD-ROM.³ I did a search of this database keying on the name John Wynn and the target birth year of 1899. No less than six John Wynns were born in that year. Two of them were born in the month of August. These two individuals had applied for their Social Security account in the states of Pennsylvania and Arkansas respectively. Because of the proximity of Arkansas to Oklahoma, I felt the one who had resided in Arkansas the more likely candidate. This John Wynn had died in August 1981 and had received his last Social Security benefit payment at ZIP Code 90731. That is the ZIP Code⁴ for the City of San Pedro in Los Angeles County, California.

I wrote a letter to the State of California Department of Health Services, Vital Statistics Branch in Sacramento and ordered John Wynn's death certificate. Several weeks later I received his Certificate of Death indicating he had died on August 8, 1981, at San Pedro. Upon examining this document in detail I knew I had struck genealogical gold. This John Wynn was unmistakably my cousin. The proof was provided by information listed on the Certificate as follows:

Birthplace:	Illinois	Correct
Father:	Michael Wynn	Correct
Birthplace of Father:	Oklahoma	Incorrect -- Born: Illinois
Mother:	Alice Turton	Correct

Three hits out of four added to the correct birth month and year were persuasive arguments. The decedent, John Michael Wynn, was surely my second cousin.

My next thought was to obtain his obituary. The Certificate of Death stated that he had been buried at Green Hills Memorial Park in San Pedro. That Green Hills Mortuary was the funeral home responsible for the burial.

I wrote to Green Hills Mortuary and they responded quickly and kindly provided me with a photocopy of their record pertaining to the burial of John Michael Wynn. This record gave me this additional information:

Gertrude Wynn, Wife, San Pedro, California (as Gertrude Styron on Certificate of Death).
John M. Wynn, Son, Pismo Beach, California.
Mary Platis, Daughter, San Pedro, California.
Robert E. Wynn, Son, Garden Grove, California.
Eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

I logically concluded that Gertrude Wynn would be the person to contact. My next action was to determine whether or not Gertrude (Styron) Wynn was living. The Social Security Death Benefit database listed fourteen Gertrude Wynns. Only one indicated that their SS account number had been issued in California. The date of death was October 30, 1989, but there were no ZIP codes for last benefit or death benefit payments or state residence code. This information was inconclusive.

I then decided to post a request for information on ROOTS-L⁵ requesting information from State of California vital statistics on the death subsequent to 1981 of a Gertrude Wynn. One respondent provided me with this information:

Gertrude died on 10-30-1989 in LA County.

This message appeared to confirmed the Social Security information, but not conclusively.

The remaining avenues open to investigation were the children of John and Gertrude Wynn. The tool to which I next turned for help was Home Phone Book 1996--Edition Two (West).⁶ I found names and addresses for individuals who had the same or similar names to John Wynn's children. These are the two that had the greatest possibilities:

John M. Wynn	Arroyo Grande, California
M Platis	San Pedro, California

No logical listing could be found for Robert E. Wynn.

A general inquiry including a partial family tree was addressed to John M. Wynn at Arroyo Grande. My letter was returned marked:

Undeliverable as addressed -- Forwarding order expired.

I then wrote a similar letter to M. Platis of San Pedro assuming it was Mary Platis.

Upon returning home several days later I found a message on my telephone answering device from Mary Wynn Platis acknowledging that she was the daughter of my cousin, John Michael Wynn.

I immediately called her and before our conversation ended we were both convinced that we were unquestionably cousins. There were too many points of common Wynn family knowledge to be a coincidence. Mary Wynn Platis said she had an interest in researching her Wynn family history, but because of a active life had never gotten around to the task.

My cousin stated before we completed our telephone conversation that she was going to provide me with all the vital statistics concerning her branch of the Wynn family regarding births, marriages, and deaths and send it on to me. This information has been received and has been included in the Wynn Family Tree.

While I didn't make a sensational breakthrough with regard to obtaining information on the birthplaces of Thomas Wynn and Mary Farmer, we did establish a link between two branches of the family that previously had no knowledge of each other.

It is hoped that this short genealogical research success story and the demonstration of three modern technological methods of research will encourage others to equal or greater accomplishments.

² As spelled by census enumerator.

MEMORIES OF WORLD WAR II

By Helen Ristvet

As soon as we (my parents, Rhemi & Maude Purcell and my husband and I, J. Lloyd and Helen Kingston) heard the announcement on the radio declaring war we began to speculate how we would be involved. "Why we might even have soldiers on our property" one of us exclaimed. Within two weeks ten or twelve soldiers under Sgt. George Suddeth had moved into the old strawberry shed and were erecting an anti-aircraft battery on the hill to protect the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard.

That first Christmas the Les Hinthornes, Rhemi Purcells and J. Lloyd Kingstons shared their dinner with a group of homesick boys -- two or three at a time when they were off duty.

The Purcell home was always open to them unless they were on restrictions. Most of them called my parents "Mom" and "Dad." "Mom" sewed on their stripes, and made them cakes and pies. We had cows and sold them milk for 10 cents a quart. The change was usually given to my 2 yr old daughter, Beverly, to put into her piggy bank. It was then used to buy bonds. Jimmy, one of the soldiers, would put his cap on her head, and Bev would parade around the house.

One of the boys said he hadn't been paid since he got into the army. Sgt. George explained that the piece of paper he gave him monthly was a check and he should cash them. He took him to the bank and watched him make his "X." Then he came back and borrowed a primary reader from "Mom" and taught him to read and write.

That first summer the boys that didn't have the duty piled into the Hinthornes truck with all of us. Les drove on logging roads and we had our picnic by a wooded lake somewhere in Kitsap County. Everyone enjoyed.

When haying season arrived, the boys pitched hay followed by a home cooked meal.

I was expecting Jim the winter of 1942-43 and I discovered the boys were gambling on the birth date. The snow was fairly deep that February. Sgt. George offered to take me to the hospital in the army truck. I didn't use it, but one of the neighbor ladies did.

With one baby and expecting another, it was time to have our own home. We purchased one acre from the folks for $75.00 and began to put up a house. The most reasonable was a log house. The soldiers help Lloyd put up the foundation then we had the sides erected. We bought material as it was available and as we had the money. The sheetrock arrived before the roofing. Eventually Sgt. George Suddeth was replaced by Sgt. Bob Bowman. Bob phoned "Mom" every few months until she passed away in 1978. When I remarried in 1976, Bob and his wife sent a wedding gift.

It was war, but the boys who were stationed at our place will never forget and neither will I.
