As the year comes to a close, so does my term as Editor. The past three years have been fun and very educational for me. There are several dedicated members whom I can't thank enough -- they were always there when I needed material: Sharon Streitt, Marlys Marrs, Carol Neumann and Mark Hester. And thanks to our Board for their suggestions. I'd even like to thank my 6 year old daughter Rochelle for helping me assemble each issue.

Please continue to give your help, support and suggestions to our new Editor, Ruth Manning. Ruth has some outstanding articles planned!!!! We are a volunteer organization and couldn't operate efficiently without all of us working together.....Roseann

CLUB CORNER

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR December 8 at Great Northwest Building, Bremerton

This is our last money-making project for the year -- let's all pitch in and help!!! Co-chairman Bev Greene (871-1006) and Carol Neumann (692-9577) report the donations are coming in slowing; but that they are holding working parties to make different items for sale. If you aren't able to donate any saleable items (baked goods included), how about a cash donation to buy the materials for the work parties?

Please call either Bev or Carol and offer your help!!

THE BOOK NOOK

ON THE SHELF AT PUGET SOUND GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY LIBRARY:

The Atlantic Bridge to Germany, Volumes I, II, III, IV -- Charles M. Hall. These four books cover the following areas in Germany: Volume I: Baden-Wuerttemberg; Volume II: Hessen and Rheinland-Pfalz (The Palitinate); Volume III: Bavaria (Bayern); and Volume IV: Saarland, Alsace-Lorraine and Switzerland. Each volume gives an historical background of the area, contains many maps and each has an index to the Gemeinde (communities) of each area covered. The set is shelved under Ger 9.

Maryland Marriages 1778-1800 -- Robert Barnes. 313 pp., indexed. 1978. This book is an alphabetical arrangement (by groom's name) to about 16,000 marriages recorded from 1778-1800 in church records now on deposit at the Maryland Historical Society and at the Hall of Records in Maryland. Also included are some marriage license returns filed annually by ministers. A surname index of brides is given at the end of the book. This is shelved as book no. Myd 46. (Note: A companion volume, Maryland Marriages 1634-1777 compiled also by Robert Barnes is also in our library.)

NEW AT KITSAP REGIONAL LIBRARY:

In Search of British Ancestry -- Hamilton-Edwards, 1974. Covers Civil Registration, Census Returns, Parish Registers, Non-Parochial Registers, Wills and Administrations, Records of Clergymen, Lawyers, Doctors, etc. This book also has a chapter on Scottish, Irish and Welsh records. R929.342

Burke's Family Index, 1976. This is a comprehensive listing of all families which have appeared in Burke's publications from 1826 - 1976. R929.016

In Search of Scottish Ancestry -- Hamilton-Edwards, 1972. This covers such topics as: Parish and Non-Conformist Registers; Naming Customs; Registers of Deeds; Cess, Census and Taxation Lists; and Clans and Scottish Titles. R929.1094

Burke's American Families with British Ancestry, 1977. Contains the lineages of 1,600 families of British origin who are now resident in the U.S.A. About 50,000 persons are covered. R929.2097

DIFFERENT FROM NOWADAYS

by Mark Hester

Since the last showing of Roots the other week I'm sure that most of you have seen Roots at least once. Some of your ancestors might have owned slaves or they might have been slaves themselves. I know that mine owned slaves and it hasn't been one of the things I've been proud of. Like you might have been, I got interested in some of the facts about slavery.

Of all America's immigrant peoples, only the Africans came in chains. Although slavery had a long bitter history in America beginning with the arrival of "20 and odd blacks" at Jamestown in 1619, it never really took root in the North, partly because the Quakers and other early abolitionists had moral qualms against it, but mostly because Northern farms and factories were initially too small to require large labor forces such as those provided by slaves. Gradually the South developed great plantations of rice, sugar, tobacco and indigo which demanded large numbers of workers who were forced to endure arduous toil in searing heat. Consequently, slavery became the very foundation of the Southern economy.

The slave trade turned into a very profitable industry after Eli Whitney invented the cotton gin in 1793. Although all Northern States had barred slavery by 1804 the "peculair institution" (as Senator John C. Calhoun called it) was maintained in the South until the end of the Civil War; by 1860 there were well over 4 million slaves in the U.S.

The United States barred the legal importation of slaves in 1808; although thousands were subsequently smuggled in before the Civil War. The ban caused a labor pinch at a time when the cultivation of cotton was booming and spreading into the Southwest. The price of prime field hands soared from between $300 and $350 in 1790 to an average of $1,500 in 1860; and traffic in bodies became a major Southern industry. All Southern cities and most sizable towns in the South held regular public slave auctions. At these, human beings were displayed, poked and prodded like livestock, then sold to the highest bidder. Washington D.C. was as one writer put it "seat and center" of the interstate slave trade until Congress banned sales of slaves in D.C. in 1850.

The Emancipation Proclamation and the Union Army with the aid of some 186,000 black volunteers finally freed the slaves. As Rev. Martin Luther King said in the early 1960's, "Free at last, free at last, thank God Almighty we are free at last."

1870 Kitsap County Census Corrections

One of our new members Mrs. "Fredi" Perry is a well known authority on Kitsap County history. She has noted some errors in the 1870 census which we published in this Volume. We will have these corrections ready for publication next time. We appreciate Fredi's interest in helping us publish accurate information and we welcome others to do the same.
