RETSIL CEMETERY REPORT

A big thanks to our volunteer crew who enjoyed a picnic with someone's relatives. We were reading and verifying the markers at Retsil on September 14, and it turned out to be a beautiful day. This project was headed by Jan Stevenson, Special Projects Chairperson, who is doing a great job organizing all our local records. Jan's volunteers deserve a big thanks for donating their day to this project. Anyone wishing to help on these special projects are asked to call Jan at 275-2034.

LEWIS FUNERAL CHAPEL RECORDS

Another long-deserved thanks goes out to those who have spent many hours reading the records at the Lewis Funeral Chapel. Carol Neumann and Marlys Marrs started this project several years ago. For the last couple of years, Marlys and Myrna Bryant have been copying these records and they have just finished this project. Watch for this and future bulletins to see their handiwork.

COURTHOUSE RECORDS

This also has been an ongoing project. We have completed births and deaths and are just finishing marriage records. This has involved many hours of volunteer work by many club members. At the present time, Ruth Strube is our recorder and is finishing up these courthouse records. So much of her time has been spent down in the vault of the courthouse, people are beginning to wonder if she isn't on the county payroll.

DAUGHTERS OF THE PIONEERS OF WASHINGTON

This group was organized in 1911. Membership is open to descendants of pioneers who were in Washington during the year 1870 or before, in Oregon by 1853, or in Idaho by 1863. One of the main projects of this organization is the excellent library now housed in the Washington State Historical Society in Tacoma. Another project is a memorial scholarship fund. Nineteen chapters are active at present throughout the state. Any members wishing more information about this organization please contact Mrs. A. W. Zimmerman, State President, 9504 NE 119th St., Vancouver, WA 98662, or by phone at 206-573-2207.

ANOTHER SURNAME INDEX

The Club Library has received information about a new index, the "GONE WEST" index, being prepared by the Tuolumne Co. Genealogical Society of Sonora, CA. This index will list surnames of individuals living in the following counties of California prior to 1940 and back to 1840, the Gold Rush days: Alpine, Amador, Butte, Calaveras, El Dorado, Fresno, Madera, Mariposa, Merced, Mono, Nevada, Placer, Plumas, Sacramento, San Joaquin, Sierra, Stanislaus, Sutter, Tuolumne, and Yuba. If your ancestors went to this area, send your surnames currently being researched to "Gone West" Index Project, c/o Tuolumne Co. Genealogical Society Library, P.O. Box 3956, Sonora, CA 95370.

THANK YOUS FROM THE PRESIDENT

At this time, I would like to thank the marvelous group that I worked with during the year 1983. My first thanks goes to Myrna Bryant for being a very understanding vice president and my right-hand person. Another thanks goes to Lillis Chafe for doing a great job with membership as 2nd V.P. and even conducting the meeting when both Myrna and I were vacationing. Thanks to Vicki Bushnell who did a great job as secretary, held down a full-time job, and has two young children at home, plus a marvelous husband, John, who allowed us to share her time. Our corresponding secretary was Sheila Lewis and she was more than willing to answer club matters. Lillian Harvey, treasurer, did a neat job this year and was very patient with this president. Our bulletin editor, Ruth Manning, did many hours of typing and putting together a bulletin of which we are all proud. Cindy Spore has taken the job of publicity chairperson, and never does your president have to worry about her efficiency. Our historian, Madi Cataldo, has kept the club book up to date and has done a great job. Many, many more thanks to Maxine Crippen for Mr. Fiske's problem solving seminars and keeping up with the genealogy forms; to Sharon Streitt for her job keeping us up on the books; Lou Smart for doing such a beautiful job with the library; and to all the members of different committees who have assisted in the many projects of this year. Last but not least, a big thank you to Marlys and Bill Marrs. Without their help we would be in serious trouble! Marlys never says no when asked to step in for any emergency, and Bill constantly helps the club with new bookcases and having his home constantly full of genealogists. Both Marlys and Bill are fantastic people and we all thank them very much.

ROSEMARY O'BRIEN, President

SEMINAR

Our 1983 seminar was a big success, thanks to Bev Greene and Vickie Bushnell and all those who participated. Bev and Vickie are again co-chairing the seminar in 1984 which will be in April. Watch the February bulletin for the exact date. Arlene Eakles of Salt Lake City will be our speaker again, and anyone who attended in 1983 knows what an interesting and exciting day we spent with her.

* * * SPECIAL REVIEW * * *

Miscellaneous Iowa Records, Volume II. Rita Goranson & Jo Ann Burgess. 50 pp. Indexed. $5.95. (Donated by Family Researchers, 115 Lakeview Dr., Mason City, Iowa 50401.

This is the 2nd volume of a continuing series designed to record Bible records and other manuscript materials found in private Iowa homes or antique shops. The majority of the information is restricted to pre-1900 events. Besides Bible records, there are some marriage and funeral records of a "Rev. John Todd"-Fremont Co., Iowa; a "birthday book;" extracts of family letters; a voters list; and names from an autograph album. These are often "impossible" to find records! This type of compilation can be of real service and value to researchers. (The compilers also have published a series of volumes on Bible records found in Iowa libraries and museums--these would be worth investigating, especially if you have Iowa lines.)

As a special note, in the process of compiling this volume and the other series on Bible records, Family Researchers has accumulated a number of family Bibles and other miscellaneous records which they are selling at cost--these are the original records. Bibles included are: AMUNDSON, BRADLEY, BROWN/IRWIN, CRAFTS, DAY/BONNEL, HERRICK, IRWIN, KVAMME, LEMON/LUCUS, MADISON, MANLEY, McMEANS/SCOTT, MERRITT, OTTLEY and PORTER, PARIS and YOUNG, PEREGORY, SCHNEIDER and ULRICH, SPAFFORD and CROCKER, THOMPSON, HOPKINS, YEOUMANS, McCOY, and BLOUNT; plus some family records for: CASE/CARTER, HARKER and KNEE, HUDSON, THAYER, TOWNSEND, and LORD.

This is a fine addition to our PSGS Library. By the way, a look at the index shows that there are other states included in the records besides Iowa. Don't overlook this volume, even if you don't think your lines were in Iowa.

HOMESTEADERS

by F. Perry

We often hear that our ancestors "homesteaded" land, but it is important to read the original paperwork on their property to see under what laws they actually fell under when securing the land. Following are the various laws and acts under which early residents of Washington Territory and Washington State secured their land.

PRE-EMPTION LAW: Up to 160 acres secured by paying $1.25 per acre plus a fee of about $13 if they citizens of U.S. and lived upon the land.

HOMESTEAD ACT: Title to 160 acres could be secured in five years without paying any payment except a fee of about $30. Must be a U.S. citizen and reside on the land.

SOLDIERS' HOMESTEAD ACT: Same as homestead except that years served in the Army were deducted from the five year residency.

DONATION CLAIM ACT: Passed by Congress Sept. 27, 1850.
(a) Settlers prior to 12/1/1850 in Territory could get 320 acres if single, 640 acres if married, one half to each in his/her own right.
(b) From 12/1/1850 to 12/1/1853 160 acres if single, 320 if married. White settlers or occupants, including half breed Indians, abofe 18, a citizen or having made declaration of citizenship.

Early settlers secured land by Donation Act or Squatters rights.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW WHEN HIRING A PROFESSIONAL GENEALOGIST
BY Sue P. Williams, Genealogical and Historical Researcher

The following information is excerpted from the Federation of Genealogical Societies Newsletter of June-July 1983:

One of the most commonly asked questions to the genealogists is, "If I were to pay you $200 or $300, how many generations would you be able to extend my pedigree?" No researcher can responsibly predict or pre-determine the number of generations that can be proven for a certain fee. Each genealogical problem is unique. Some problems are easy to solve, and if the family lived in a geographic area and during a time period when records were well-kept, then tracing this line may be quite productive. In such cases, the amount of information one can find may be extensive.

On the other hand, some research problems are most difficult. The family may be living in a locality where the usual types of records were destroyed--courthouse burned, church or vital records not kept or lost, families moved frequently, etc. In these cases, more in-depth research may be required in supplemental records to solve a difficult problem.

Perhaps an understanding of what the consumer is actually paying for when hiring a researcher would be helpful. If the consumer is aware before hiring a genealogist that the researcher is being paid for the TIME he or she spends "searching", not necessarily "finding", then misunderstandings might be averted.

What can you expect from the genealogist for your money? A good researcher will:

1. Provide you with a research report outlining in detail what searches were made and an explanation of the results.
2. Provide you with a research calendar showing a complete list of the searches that were made during the project.
3. Provide you with copies of all research findings. Copies of the researcher's extracts, and pertinent documents found, such as church and vital records, birth, death, and marriage certificates, census enumerations, probates, military records, biographies, histories, etc., should be provided to the client. A duplicate copy of everything should be maintained by the researcher for future reference.
4. Provide you with family group records and pedigree charts. These should be updated and documented as new information is found during each project.

Remember, researchers vary greatly in their methods of reporting and in what they provide clients. If you hire a researcher who does not provide all of the above basics, you certainly can request it. You will be billed for xerox costs so the researcher can maintain duplicate files, but this is usually quite minimal when one considers the cost of re-doing the research should the original documentation be lost or accidentally destroyed.

Fees vary considerably from researcher to researcher on a per hour basis from about $5 an hour to $75 an hour. The "average" fee currently ranges somewhere between $10 and $30 per hour for the professional in the United States. Some researchers prefer to charge a flat daily fee -- such as $100 to $300 per day for their services. Many researchers require a "retainer" in advance.

Try to provide the researcher everything that you know in order to provide a better foundation on which to build. Having access to previous research, if any, will avoid costly duplication.
